

The laser disrupts pigment so the visible contrast changes immediately, but the immune system must slowly haul the debris away.

The biological waste disposal service is unionised and refuses to hurry.