
Booking processes must include explicit questions regarding acne medications that alter skin structure.
Getting lost in the paperwork is a genuine occupational hazard.