
Sedation obscures the client's ability to report pain, dizziness, and physiological distress.

Pain is optional; medical responsibility is not.