
Anaesthesia removes the patient's ability to report pain, but it does not prevent the physical trauma of needles breaching the epidermis.

THE INJURY REMAINS