

Sedative drugs can depress breathing, impair airway reflexes, lower blood pressure, and interact with alcohol, opioids, antihistamines, or other medications.

A happy hour cocktail makes a completely useless stencil primer.