
The process requires breaking the skin with sealed single-use needles and ink from single-use caps.

THE INFECTION RISK IS NOT FICTIONAL.