

Acetal is appropriate strictly for healed piercings and never for fresh tissue.

The local spirits demand extreme patience prior to polymer installation.