

Flexible polymer jewelry distributes mechanical pressure across the entire fistula rather than concentrating the load at a single point.

A mattress is infinitely more comfortable than a nail.