

A The immune system reacts when nickel ions become available in a biologically meaningful amount, not because packaging claims a product is hypoallergenic.

B The white blood cells remain stubbornly illiterate.