

Black carbon-based inks remain stable the longest while lighter and pastel pigments fade much faster.

Desk highlighters are not an officially recognized tattoo preservation method.