

Certain medications such as anticoagulants increase bleeding risk and must be screened before any procedure.

Wearing deep-sea diving gear is technically overkill.