

The revised regulations mandate that the label information be printed entirely in black ink on a purely white background.

Leaving holographic neon typography strictly for the artist business cards.