
The revised regulation changes what a compliant chemical label must contain for tattoo mixtures placed on the market.

A larger magnifying glass is now a mandatory studio expense.