

Nickel allergy predicts sensitivity to cobalt and palladium because the immune system recognises their similar molecular shape.

The royal armourer has officially banned all shiny circles.