
A piercing heals differently from a surface wound, closing from the outside inward to form a fistula around a foreign body.

HARDWARE DICTATES HEALING SUCCESS.