
A recipient experiencing sudden pain or dizziness during the procedure should state this clearly to the master.

Pretending to be completely fine while slowly sliding face first first off the cushion impresses absolutely nobody.