

Chitosan antimicrobial coatings are derived from the chitin naturally found in crustacean shells.

Foraging for jewelry supplies at the fish market is frowned upon.