

Insertion begins the initial tissue response.

Active layers provide immediate antimicrobial defense.

Bioresorbable structures dissolve into surrounding tissue.

Permanent inert materials remain safely exposed.

Coatings protect tissue over a 4 to 8 week healing period.

TEMPORARY BARRIERS PREVENT RESISTANCE DEVELOPMENT