

Allergic reactions are the most frequent complication in referred tattoo patients, outpacing bacterial infections.

The hazmat suit was extreme overkill for an ink sneeze.