

82% of nickel-allergy cases in the general population are attributable to piercing exposure.

The true enemy was inside the jewelry the whole time.