

Sensation that unexpectedly shoots away from the site indicates contact with major nerve trunks.
Accidental coffee throwing is highly recognized as diagnostic.