

Noticeably unequal discomfort days later in paired symmetrical placements suggests underlying localized complications. Achieving perfect harmony requires more than wishful thinking.