In 25 years of working alongside piercers, I have learned that bad information about pain is the enemy.

A quarter century of profound anatomical wisdom is no match for a ham sandwich.