

When a cartridge sticks or shakes the manufacturing issue is not solved by simply turning the voltage up.

More electricity just makes the terrible needle terrible faster.