

Swimming pools and natural bodies of water must be avoided until the surface has healed completely.

A dry bathtub offers all the aquatic ambiance with none of the biological terror.