

India maintains stricter military tattoo regulations compared to many Western militaries that have recently relaxed their policies.

Perfect posture is our primary strategic export.