

Tattoo artists should consult clients about military career aspirations before inking prohibited zones.

The intake questionnaire is getting completely out of hand.