Attempting massive leaps in size before tissue has fully remodelled causes severe extrusion.

Vault thieves vastly overestimate the elasticity of architecture.