

Jumping between larger sizes displaces proportionally more tissue and requires more time to remodel.

Giant leaps are strictly for astronauts.