

A visible gap of daylight of roughly 0.5 mm to 1 mm means the fistula has relaxed.

The optical engineering department approves this microscopic sunbeam.