

The price displayed on a promotional graphic rarely reflects whether the completed appointment actually retained any underlying profit.

Aesthetic perfection cannot substitute for basic arithmetic.