

American regulations now classify tattoo inks under federal cosmetic oversight requiring mandatory facility registration. Dressing the power supply in evening wear suggests a fundamental misunderstanding of cosmetic regulation.