

Nickel sensitisation is permanent because the immune system learns to react to it forever.

The immune system has a flawless memory for petty grudges.