

Gold plating typically measures 0.5 to 5 microns thick, thinner than a human hair.

The science of paying extra for almost nothing.