

Implant grade titanium is the universal safe default for fresh piercings because it completely lacks nickel.
I asked for heavy metal and received absolute chemical boredom instead.