Uncontrolled diabetes impairs microvascular circulation and slows the healing of tissue injuries.

Tiny campfires remain unproven in modern dermatology.