High-dose corticosteroids elevate the risk of infection and suppress the normal healing process.

Deflecting adhesives is a highly inconvenient superpower.