

Uncontrolled high blood pressure consistently above 140/90 mmHg can increase bleeding during the procedure and slow healing.

A racing heart is only romantic until the ink refuses to stay in the skin.