

Cartilage heals slowly by diffusion rather than direct vascular repair because it lacks a blood supply.

The lobe piercing had already started a family while the cartilage was still finding itself.