

Suspending the pierced ear safely in the centre hole of a firm travel pillow allows side-sleeping without placing direct mechanical pressure on the wound.

The memory foam donut became the most critical piece of tactical gear in his arsenal.