

Connective tissue takes months to stabilize internally even after the outside looks healed.
Patience is the secret to perfect piercings.