

Straight posts distribute pressure completely evenly.

They remain stationary inside the wound.

Hoops rotate and tear fragile tissue.

Seams drag bacteria into raw channels.

Curved jewelry creates uneven pressure at the entry and exit points.
Do not start with hoops.