Safe body art legislation is administered by local environmental health departments rather than national agencies.

He is building a fort out of the irrelevant paperwork.