

Suppliers selling into multiple independent markets need parallel compliance documentation despite identical physics.
Bureaucracy remains completely oblivious to physical reality.