

Chlorinated pool water strips the protective plasma crust from a healing wound and leaves it entirely vulnerable.

The chemical bath successfully destroyed all harmful germs along with the good cells and his afternoon plans.