

Chlorinated pool water strips away the protective plasma crust from a healing wound.

The tiny umbrella lacked sufficient structural integrity.