

A fever combined with any wound symptom indicates a systemic reaction requiring a clinical visit.

The thermostat was entirely innocent.