

A superficial infection shows an expanding ring of redness growing 1 to 2 mm per day.

Heavy industrial surveying equipment yields entirely unremarkable results.