

The agreement should specify who pays for flights and local transport when an artist travels internationally.

Aviation stunts are rarely covered by the standard petty cash tin.