

Tanned skin possesses elevated melanin activity, significantly increasing the risk of adverse effects.

Vampires make excellent laser candidates.